El diseño está involucrado en la creación del estilo. La arquitectura mecánica del producto y la ingeniería del proceso provoca el desarrollo de un producto identificativo que atrae al mercado.

Los grandes productos no se diseñan simplemente, sino que evolucionan con el tiempo a través de innumerables horas de investigación, análisis, estudios de diseño, ingeniería, creación de prototipos y, finalmente, pruebas, modificaciones y ajustes hasta que el diseño se haya perfeccionado.

Great products are not simply designed, they evolve with time through innumerable hours of investigation, analysis, design studies, engineering and creation of prototypes and, finally, tests, modifications and adjustments until the design has been perfected.
